INTRODUCTION

1932

We wish to take this opportunity to thank our many friends and customers who have helped in the success we have achieved and we will strive to give both new and old customers the same excellent quality and service, as in the past, during the coming year.

Our light, sandy soil is well adapted for growing the very highest quality of Gladiolus bulbs and reports received from everywhere—England, Australia, Germany, Holland, Canada, Cuba, and California—give ample testimony that our vigorous New England grown stock can be grown successfully in all climates.

In this catalog you will find the finest of exhibition and garden varieties listed at very reasonable prices, every variety being tested and grown by us and found worthy.

Visitors are cordially invited from July 15th until frost to enjoy our massive gardens of Gladiolus and it will well repay you for the trip to come and see what a gorgeous sight these blooms present.

We are located on the U. S. ROUTE 1 on the main highway to Portsmouth, six miles from Newburyport, Mass.

Sincerely,

SEABROOK NURSERIES,
Seabrook, N. H.

CARE AND CULTURE OF GLADIOLUS

BULBS should not be planted until corn planting time, as nothing is gained by planting before the ground is warm.

Select a sunny location away from roots of trees and shrubs. In localities where summer is extremely warm, a partially shaded situation is preferable. If your soil is heavy, plant four inches deep, and if light, six inches, having bulbs five or six inches apart.

Place bulbs in a well worked trench in staggered or zigzag rows— . . . and cover at first with about two inches of loam; when shoots begin to appear, work balance of loam into the trench. At all times keep the soil loose. As an aid to producing larger blooms work in fertilizer around the plants when about a foot or more in height and never at planting time. At the time flower spikes appear abundant watering is very beneficial.

Bulbs should be dug as soon as you note the leaves turning yellow. Cut stem off half an inch above bulb, spread them out to dry for two or three days in a sunny location and then place in an open shed or room for two weeks or more before storing them away in a cool, dry cellar. Keep them spread out and not over three inches deep. It is a benefit to give bulbs an occasional sunning or airing during the winter.

When cutting the flowers be sure to leave at least four leaves remaining on the plant. Positive injury to the blooming qualities of the bulb for the following year will occur if this precaution is not heeded.

If you want the blooms for cut flowers, cut the spike when first bud fully opens. The remaining buds will open nicely and give you a longer period of bloom and greater enjoyment.

Remove wilted blossoms, change water and cut off small portion of the stems each day.

A COLOR CHART FREE

The New England Gladiolus Society at its last show used a color chart, painted by Mr. E. N. Fischer, so successfully in determining the exact color of the flowers that it was decided to reproduce the chart 12x12 inches in 108 colors, tints and shades. The chart will simplify the describing of flowers by using names that are descriptive of the composition of the color itself and easily seen on the chart.

A copy of the chart will be given each member paying $1.00 for his 1932 membership.

Each member will also receive the big 1932 Year Book of about 175 pages full of interesting and valuable information.

Send $1.00 now for 1932 membership and dues to December 31, 1932 and get the chart and big book free.

Our successful harvest last Fall presented fine, plump, healthy stock which enables us to supply our customers with A-1 quality Gladiolus bulbs at very low prices.

Here is a letter received from one of our customers today:

“The package of gladiolus bulbs ordered from you arrived today and was very much pleased with the fine quality of same, also the generous count and extras you sent. I loaned your catalog to a friend and I believe he will send in an order very soon. I know he will be pleased when he receives the bulbs.

The packing of the glads could not have been better.

C. F., New Jersey.”

Still another:

“I received the Glad bulbs a few days ago and I want to thank you for being so generous and the bulbs are the finest.

I am so pleased that I can't say enough. The extras could not have been a better choice. Am waiting for your new catalog and shall expect to send another order. Have given my catalog to a friend who says she will duplicate my order and probably order a few others. Thank you.
